CONTINUATION COVERAGE RIGHTS UNDER COBRA

Each subscriber (employee, spouse and legal guardian of dependent children) must read this section.

Introduction

Under the provisions of the Consolidate Omnibus Budget and Reconciliation Act of 1986 (COBRA), a member and their eligible dependents are guaranteed rights to continue health coverage that would otherwise be lost due to the occurrence of certain events. This section contains important information to inform you of your rights and obligations under COBRA if you experience one of these events in the future.

COBRA continuation coverage is a temporary continuation of coverage.

This section generally explains COBRA continuation coverage, when it may become available to you and your family, and what you need to do to protect the right to receive it.

Your employer is responsible for administering COBRA continuation coverage.

COBRA Continuation Coverage

COBRA continuation coverage is continuation of Plan coverage when coverage would otherwise end due to a life event known as a “qualifying event”. Specific qualifying events are listed in the following Table (A). COBRA continuation coverage must be offered to each person who is a “qualified beneficiary”. A qualified beneficiary is someone who will lose coverage under the Plan because of a qualifying event. Depending on the type of qualifying event, employees, spouses of employees, and dependent children of employees may be qualified beneficiaries. Under the plan, qualified beneficiaries who elect COBRA continuation coverage must pay for COBRA continuation coverage.

If qualified covered employees and/or their eligible family members lose their coverage under the Plan, this Table (A) shows the events that will allow them to continue coverage under COBRA eligible plans. The coverage period listed is the maximum coverage period allowed.

TABLE A
Qualifying Events	Qualified Beneficiary	Maximum Coverage
Termination, other than for gross misconduct	Employee	18 months
Hours of Employment Reduced	Spouse Dependent Child
Employee Enrolls in Medicare	Spouse	36 months
Divorce or Legal Separation	Dependent Child
Death of Covered Employee
Loss of "Dependent Child" Status	Dependent Child	36 months

The Plan will offer COBRA continuation coverage to qualified beneficiaries only after the employer has been notified that coverage was lost due to the occurrence of a qualifying event.

When the qualifying event is the end of employment or reduction of hours of employment, or death of the employee, the employer must notify the Plan Administrator (if other than the employer) of the qualifying event within 30 days following the date coverage ends.

For the other qualifying events (divorce or legal separation of the employee and spouse, or a dependent's child losing eligibility for coverage as a dependent child), you must notify your employer. The Plan requires you notify your employer within 60 days after the qualifying event occurs. COBRA continuation coverage will then be offered to each qualified beneficiary. For each qualified beneficiary who elects COBRA continuation coverage, COBRA continuation coverage will begin on the date that the Plan coverage would otherwise have been lost.

There are two ways in which the 18-month period of COBRA continuation coverage can be extended.

Disability extension of 18-month period of continuation coverage

If you or anyone in your family covered under the Plan is determined by the Social Security Administration to be disabled at any time during the first sixty 60 days of COBRA continuation coverage and you notify your employer in a timely fashion, you and your entire family can receive an additional 11 months of COBRA continuation coverage, for a maximum of 29 months. You must make sure your employer is notified of the Social Security Administration's determination within 60 days of the date of the determination and before the 18-month period of COBRA continuation coverage.

Second qualifying event extension of 18-month period of continuation coverage

If your family experiences another qualifying event while receiving COBRA continuation coverage, the spouse and dependent children in your family can get additional months of COBRA continuation coverage, for a total maximum of 36 months. The extension is available to the spouse and dependent children if the former employer dies, enrolls in Medicare, or gets divorced or legally separated. The extension is also available to a dependent child when that child stops being eligible under the plan as a dependent child. In all of these cases, you must make sure that the employer is notified of the second qualifying event within 60 days of the second qualifying event.

If You Have Questions

If you have questions about your COBRA continuation coverage, you should contact your employer, or you may contact the nearest Regional or District Office of the U.S. Department of Labor's Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA). Addresses and phone numbers of Regional and District EBSA offices are available through EBSA's website at www.dol.gov/ebsa.
